the following business day.

Fundbox provides users with a business-purpose loan, or will simply purchase the outstanding invoice, depending on state regulations. Users can pay advances back in either 12 or 24 week increments, and payments are processed automatically by Fundbox. Users also have the option to pay early and eliminate extra fees.

Fundbox pricing is based on the invoice amount and users will see the exact repayment schedule including fees prior to accepting the advance.

Fundbox has its own particular niche, and can be a lifesaver for the freelancer or small business owner who relies on steady cash flow to remain in business. Pricing is based on invoice amount and repayment schedule agreed upon.
