Vertex, Inc., a provider of tax technology and services, is launching Vertex Innovation Labs, expanding its community of co-innovation with clients and partners throughout the tax, regulatory and technology industries.

From legislative changes, to digital tax initiatives, businesses across the globe are faced with increasingly complex tax and regulatory challenges. The mission of the Innovation Labs group is to further advance a vision for next-generation global commerce by automating compliance and business transformation. This includes focusing on new regulatory models based upon emerging trends, such as compliance by design and real-time taxation. The Labs co-innovation processes help clients and promising startup enterprises leverage and orchestrate the latest technologies including machine learning, blockchain/shared ledgers, advanced analytics and the internet of things ("IOT").

Vertex provides business and technical development, as well as mentoring, subject matter expertise, and access to a network of high-quality relationships to grow ideas from concept to scalable solutions. Vertex Innovation Labs can help entrepreneurs and intrapreneurs harness emerging technologies and a broad portfolio of Vertex solutions to supercharge promising opportunities.
